Abstract

This paper discusses Examination of Luke 18:8B in the Light of the Prevalent unscriptural conducts in the contemporary church. Theological cum historical and sociological methods are adopted for the research. The work has an exegesis of the text. The work also discusses the various misdemeanor in the church in the contemporary days. Very unscriptural conducts have grown phenomenally in the contemporary church. Christians now get themselves involved in those things hitherto regarded as ungodly. They can now keep malice, crave inordinately for pecuniary gains and mundane things of life. Thus, those things that were gains but considered as loss for the sake of Christ have been brought to the front burner of life and in corollary, Christianity. The priests are not abiding by the dictates of the religion. Some priests have taken their calling as an alibi to perpetuate very heinous crimes. Lewdness and lechery are common among Christian leaders. Some cannot live an ascetic, self-abnegating or Spartan life, rather ostentation is the order of the day. Success in the ministry is now measured by the type of car(s) the minister ride, the mansion he lives and the amount of money in the bank. Break-through is now the vogue. Salvation and the issue of eschatology had since been relegated to the background. All these ungodly tendencies can possibly be ascribed to the end-time. This is when Paul predicted will be characterized by various ineptitudes and unchristian acts. However, Christians should be mindful of God's recompense. It ended with the synopsis that the end-time is probably ultimately responsible for the misdeeds.

1 I. Introduction

"?But when the son of man comes, will he find faith on earth?" here is no gainsaying the fact that the old forms of religion, characterized by the absolute fear of God, are now effete. Believers are no longer desirous to adhere strictly to the original tenets of Christianity. Christians can now do what ordinarily should not be done. They can today do things that are considered to be amoral and, therefore, not religious. It is not uncommon in the contemporary days to see Christians getting involved shamelessly in very satanic dispositions. Some Christians now steal, lie, cheat, get involved in affray, keep malice, back-bite, oppress, suppress, prevaricate, etc. knowing fully well that the judgment of God is not instantaneous. It is true that God will eventually adjudicate, however, it is not momentary. Thus, every Tom, Dick and Harry can continue, probably ad infinitum, with his or her way of life, not minding whether such dispositions are in tandem with the dictate of the Lord. In the contemporary days, Christianity is practiced at the lowest ebb. As a Christian, you can do virtually everything hitherto enunciated above. This is because you know that you can subsequently go and recite the Lord's prayer - "Forgive us our trespasses just as we forgive those who trespass against us" (Matt. 6:12). This is further exacerbated by the ministers of God who have the strong conviction that, since they are called, they can use their calling to 42 accomplish their own inordinate goal(s), and they believe that they are very much infallible and can, therefore, 43 not be checked or called to order. As the intermediary between God and man, the clergy is accorded tremendous 44 respect, and also seen as the one who cannot err. But this is incorrect. They are first and foremost human beings 45 and can be influenced, just as the Jewish background had its influence on Christianity, even up till now.

46 It should be stated that there is nothing wrong with the tenets of Christianity up till today, but some of the 47 practioners of Christianity had deviated from the good practice of Christianity in the yester-years 1 . This paper 48 gives the exegesis of the text, goes on to examine some prevalent ungodly conducts in the contemporary church, 49 and ends with the conclusion.

52 Translation "But when the son of man comes, will he find faith on earth?"

53 The Greek word $\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha$ is translated but. According to Hornby, but is used to introduce a word or phrase that 54 contrasts with what was said before? It can be used in the place of however. It is also used to introduce a 55 statement that shows that you are surprised or annoyed, or that you disagree 2 .

56 The Greek α is translated the, which is a definite article. Again, according to Hornby, it is used to refer to 57 somebody or something that has already been mentioned or is easily understood; used to refer to somebody or 58 something that is the only, normal or obvious one of their kind, used when explaining which person or thing you 59 mean 3 .

60 Moreover, the Greek Phrase $\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha$ $\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha$ means son of man. Jesus often referred to himself by this 61 expression (Mk. 2:10; 27-28; Mt. 12:31-32; 13:41; 25:31-32). Though it may sometimes mean just 'I' more often 62 veiled reference as the Messiah, and influenced by Dan. 7:13-14, where "one like the son of man" is vindicated by 63 God 4 . According to Dunnett, the title appears over 80 times in the New Testament, all but one in the Gospels 64 (see Acts 7:56) the only place where it is not used by our Lord Himself. Some writers see three meanings of the 65 phrase: (1) as descriptive of the coming one (eschatological, Mt. 24:27); (2) referring to Jesus's suffering and 66 death (Mk. 8:31); and (3) as descriptive of His early ministry of teaching and healing (Mk. 2:10, 28) 5 .

67 Dunnett goes on to assert quite pungently that: A recent study contends that Jesus used the title as a 68 euphemism for the "Son of God", for in Palestine the latter would sound blasphemous to a semitic audience.
69 Why did he use the title so enigmatic as this? Probably for at least two reasons (1) it was general enough to 70 include all the aspects of His person and work, whether present or eschatological and (2) it caught His heavens 71 by surprise, jolted them into attention and forced them to ask, who is this son of man (Jn. 12:34) 6 .Dunnett is 72 not done. He finally opines that: majority of writers today accept it as a genuine, in fact, the most outstanding 73 self-designation of our Lord. "Son of man" is just about the most pretentious piece of self description that any 74 man in the ancient East could possibly have used ?? .

75 Furthermore, the Greek word $\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha$ has its English rendering as come. Horn by defines come as: to move to 76 or towards a person or place; to arrive at or reach a place; to arrive somewhere in order to do something or get 77 something 8 . The last definition will be the most ideal for our purpose. This is because of the eschatological 78 expectation. It is strongly believed that Christ will be coming again (parousia) to take those that are his home, 79 while those who are not rapturable will end up in utter perdition.

80 Then, the Greek word $\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha$ has find as its meaning in English. Hornby defines find as: to discover somebody 81 or something unexpectedly or by chance ? to get back something or somebody that was lost after searching for 82 it? 9 . In this context, Christ's position was, would he discover or get faith when he comes back again?

83 Similarly, the Greek word α $\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha\alpha$ is translated as faith in English. Culbertson sees faith as the basis of 84 things hoped for, the demonstration of objects not seen? It furnishes us with a foundation on which our hopes 85 can securely rest, and with a conviction that those things exist which are not earthly or temporal, and which, 86 therefore, we cannot see 10 . Faith α is a central element in prayer. Faith moves us to persevere, not desperately 87 but with confidence. For faith lets us look beyond our circumstances and fixes our eyes on the father who cares 88 11 . According to Buttrick and Kepler et al , faith is man's Yes to the word of God. And when the word
89 comes to a focus in Christ, faith also may be said to centre on this focus? faith is belief in something or trust 90 in some person. In theology, it properly describes man's apprehension of the absolute or transcendent 12 . It is 91 response to revelation as contracted with discovery of new knowledge. KNOWLEDGE is corrective with facts or 92 information or truth and belongs to the sphere of epistemology. Faith is the more distinctively religious term ...
93 faith may be decribed as a kind of knowledge and certainly reason involved in the act of faith $\alpha\alpha\alpha$. According to 94 Leslie Church: ?Faith is the great thing that Jesus Christ looks for. He does not ask, is there innocency? But, is 95 there faith? ?It supposes that if there were faith, though ever so little, he would find it out ? It is foretold that 96 when Christ comes he will find but little faith ? In general, he will find but few good people. Many that have 97 the form and fashion of godliness, but few that have faith, that are sincere and honest ? In particular, he will 98 find few that have faith concerning his coming. It intimates that Christ may, and will, delay his coming so long 99 as that, first, wicked people will begin to defy it and his delay will harden them in their wickedness. Secondly, 100 even his own people will begin to despair of it. But this is our comfort that when the time appointed comes, it 101 will appear that the unbelief of man has not made the promise of God of no effect 14 .

102 It should be noted with utmost significance that the most important of the Hebrew terms for faith α signifies

103 "firmness", "stability". The verb is used in the Hiph'il in the sense "believe", "trust" 15 . Essentially, according 104 to Buttrick and Kepler et al , faith means freedom (Gal. 4:1-5; 13) ? freedom from wickedness ("former lusts"; 105 Rom. 6:12-19; Eph. 2:1-5; Col. 3:5-10; I Thess. 4:3-9) and from other authorities which mankind acknowledges?
106 ??? . Obviously, God will be faithful, but can the same be said about man? By the time of the Parousia ? will all 107 men have despaired so that no one still believes in the eventual triumph of the sovereign rule of a just God? 17
108 Undoubtedly, true believers who persistently wait with patient trust will seem few 18 , at the eventual Parousia.
109 Certainly, submits the Unger's Bible Handbook, in the dark apostate days of the Tribulation, faith will be found 110 only in the faithful remnant of God's people 19 .

111 It is pertinent to state quite clearly that the Greek word ??? simply means earth. According to The World
112 Book Encyclopedia, earth is small planet in the vastness of space. It is one of several planets that travel through 113 space around the sun? The planet earth is only a tiny part of the universe, but it is the home of human beings 114 and in fact, all known life in the universe. Animals, plants and other organisms live almost everywhere on Earth's 115 surface 20 . Wenzel states that:

116 Volume XX Issue I Version I The main Hebrew words translated earth are (a) adama which signifies the 117 reddish soil or ground (cf. Heb. adom, "red") from which man's body was made, and so he was named adam, 118 "man" or Adam (Gen. 2:7; 3:19) and (b) eres which is not only translated "earth" but land, thus denoting a 119 country (Gen. 21:21). Since this word may mean either the whole earth or just part of it, some passages may 120 read "earth" in one translation and "land" in another (cf. Isa. 10:23).

121 In the New Testament, the usual Greek word is ge translated either "earth" with its various meanings or "land" 122 especially the land of Judea (Mt. 27:45). Another word oikoumene, denotes especially the whole inhabited earth 123 (Lk. 21:26) 21 .

124 In the final analysis, according to Pfeiffer and Harrison, the rhetorical question (will the son of man meet 125 faith or earth?) implies that faith will be scarce. Our Lord's words do not predict a general improvement in the 126 spiritual condition of the world before his coming 22 , hence the somewhat obscene dispositions in the church in 127 the contemporary days.

128 3 III. Some Perceived Unscriptural Conducts in the Contem- 129 porary Church

130 The Christian church, according to Fatokun, can be rightly described as an offshoot of Judaism. This is because, 131 neither Jesus nor His peripatetic bunch of evangelical disciples were really Christians in the general usage of 132 the word during their three and half years evangelical campaign in Palestine. To a good observer then they 133 constituted nothing other than a reforming party within Judaism (as shown by most of their activities) 23 .
134 Fatokun goes on to state that: But Jesus had at one point in time adumbrately gave the note: "I will build my 135 church" (Matt. 16:18). Following the Greek text, Jesus did not speak of building a Kuriakon that is, "a house of 136 worship", but an Ekklesia -that is "a called out people of God" from the thralldom of sin unto holy living, or in 137 a nutshell "a redeemed community" 24 , brought out of the dungeon of sin unto repentance.

138 Over the years, Christianity appears to have faced some challenges in the way and manner the religion is 139 being practiced. It is probable that those things that were regarded as gain but were conversely counted as loss 140 hitherto for the sake of Christ, (Phil. 3:7), have been brought to the front burner of human existence, and in 141 corollary, the practice of Christianity. According to Odumuyiwa, in the 19 th and up to the later part of the 142 20 th centuries, Christianity was a religion to reckon with in Nigeria, not that there were no shortcomings here
143 and there; but the position of Christianity since the later part of the 20 th century gives cause for concern 25 .
144 Ostensibly, there is the general abuse of Christianity in all ramifications.

145 The moral decadence and corruption in the society today is a reflection of the condition of the church.

146 Government officials, politicians and businessmen are mired in corrupt practices 26 . There is the prevalence 147 of insincerity and dishonesty even among Christians. Thus, there is little that can possibly be accomplished in 148 some offices without greasing palms. Virtually everybody is corrupt. Sad enough, some of those that are involved 149 in these corrupt practices are those that profess the Christian faith. This is even when they have taken the oath 150 of office with the Bible in their hands, only to perjure since perjury here has no instantaneous repercussion. That 151 is why Ehioghare enthuse that ? religious leaders and followership in Nigeria cannot exonerate themselves from 152 the sorry state of things in the society ??? . Again, according to Odumuyiwa, ? one can hardly differentiate the 153 attitudes of some Christian politicians from those of other faiths; corruption, acts of inhumanity to man, lack 154 of the fear of God, greed, dishonesty and all sorts of ungodly and unchristian attitudes are now common among 155 Christian ? politicians ? bad governance is the order of the day 28 ; whereas, Asaju states that, Christians 156 in politics are simply acting in service and in the interest of their heavenly father's world 29 . Buttressing the 157 position of Odumuyiwa as enunciated above, Folaranmi opines thus: mention anything negative: corruption, 158 violation of human rights, fallen standard of education, electoral malpractices, epileptic power outage, incessant
159 strikes, lack of security of lives and properties, unemployment, fraud, greed and the rest, Nigeria is in the fore-160 front 30 in spite of the magnitude of our religiosity. According to Odumuyiwa, Christians are many in the 161 country so also the social vices and crimes committed are in the increase. Some Christians who constitute the 162 membership of the church do not live above board. Thus, we have a "religious but criminal society" 31 . Also, 163 supporting the position of Odumuyiwa as enunciated above, Adeosun dissects the scenario thus: Although most

4 BUT ALAS!

164 Nigerians blame successive leaders of this country for the nation's inability to assume its developmental potential, 165 very few have admitted also that the failure of all aspects of the national life is traceable to the colossal erosion 166 of the people's core ethical or moral values 32 .

167 The intellectual avant-garde 33 are beginning to query the very essence of the religion of some people. The 168 argument is that the disposition of some Christians is absolutely not in tandem with what they profess. For 169 instance, some contend that, it is disheartening for the serving president, who is a Christian anyway, to be 170 campaigning all over the country even when over two hundred Chibok girls are still languishing in the very 171 bondage of the insurgents called Boko Haram, that appears invincible. This is even as Christ says that if you 172 have one hundred sheep and one is missing, will you not leave the ninety-nine in search of the missing one? (Matt.
173 18:12). Also, the Christian president is not bothered about the manner in which Nigerians are being massacred
174 in the North Eastern part of Nigeria. His Volume XX Issue I Version I19 (A)

175 utmost interest is to win election and perpetuate himself in office, even in the face of trite insecurity and 176 hunger. In parenthesis, Nigerians are no longer safe. This is because they can be killed, maimed or kidnapped at 177 any time. The issue of insecurity is further compounded by the acute down-turn of the economy which arguably 178 is a global phenomenon. Sad enough, salaries of workers are not paid as at when due, just as pensioners are 179 dying in their scores of untimely and inglorious death because their pensions are not paid, which has made it 180 difficult, if not impossible for them to settle hospital bills. And their children who are supposed to come to the 181 aid of the aged parents are either unemployed or underemployed.

182 Furthermore, there are some Christians who albeit claim to have faith in God but do not rest or rely absolutely 183 on Him. That is why some Christians still go about consulting herbalists to find solution(s) to their seemingly 184 intractable predicaments. Prophet Jeremiah dissects the above scenario thus: Thus says the Lord: "Cursed is the 185 man who trusts in man and makes flesh his arm, whose heart turns away from the Lord" (Jer. 17:5). Jeremiah 186 goes on to state that: "Blessed is the man who trusts in the Lord, whose trust is the Lord" (Jer. 17:7). Of 187 course, proverbs state that: The fear of man lays a snare, but he who trusts in the Lord is safe (Prov. 29:25).
188 Faith entails praying fervently to the Lord and thereafter relinquish everything to Him for whatever action and 189 inaction. No short cut or a form of trying to "help" God to accomplish a given goal. Hebrew states that: And 190 without faith, it is impossible to please God because anyone who comes to him must believe that he exists and 191 that he rewards those who earnestly seek Him. By faith Noah, being warned by God concerning events as yet 192 unseen, took heed and constructed an ark for the saving of his house-hold ? (Heb. 11:6-7)

193 Moreover, that common saying among the Yoruba, Ti o ba ni baba nigbejo, ti o ba rojo are, wa jebi meaning 194 if you have no god-father to support you, if you narrate a case in which you are suppose to be absolved of guilt,
195 you will be adjudged guilty, is quite prevalent in the church in the contemporary days. In todays Christianity, 196 there is no more objectivity, but trite subjectivity. Truth is no longer sacrosanct, rather absolute falsehood, utter 197 prevarication is the order of the day. We can no longer call a spade a spade. Christians can not see white and call 198 it white. In its stead, they will look for another colour with which they will refer to what is obviously white in 199 order to conceal the truth. According to Alaba Olusola, ours is a nation where lies, lawlessness, greed, corruption 200 and apathy have become acceptable style of life and instrument of governance; speaking the truth has become 201 strange 34 .

202 Malice probably constitute part of African cultural milieu. This is quite pronounced in this part of the country.
203 If and when "A" offends "B", the resultant effect is malice even in the church. There are several cases of such 204 in diverse churches across the country, especially where we are situated. This is happening even as the Bible 205 states quite unequivocally thus: Be angry but do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger, and give no 206 opportunity to the devil (Eph. 4:26).

207 Besides, it has been observed and very painfully, too, that Christians now skive, leading to dereliction and 208 or negligence in spite of the biblical injunction that states: "Whatever your task, work heartily, as serving the 209 Lord and not men, knowing that from the Lord you will receive the inheritance as your reward; you are serving 210 the Lord Christ (Col. 3:23-24). Today, it is not uncommon to see some supposed Christians skiving in their 211 various places of work, in spite of the fact that they have not gone furlough. And even when they manage 212 to come, their stock in trade is sniping and or denigrating those at the helm of affairs. But they have never 213 bothered to assess themselves. Denominationalism is a dangerous and worrisome dimension to this malady. If 214 and when a given denomination has an establishment, and a member of that denomination is employed there, 215 he/she believes strongly that anything can be done by him/her. But this is obviously amiss. If anything, should 216 one find himself/herself in an establishment owned by his/her denomination, he/she is supposed to work very 217 assiduously to justify the confidence reposed in him/her.

218 4 But alas!

219 Having succinctly examined some of the unscriptural conducts of Christians, it is apposite to look, in brevity, 220 at the disposition of those charged with the onerous responsibility of anchoring the faith. Indeed, the church 221 through the connivance of its leaders seems to have shirked her obligation of being the watchdog for the nation.
222 Instead, she has joined in the multiplication of vices such as corruption, bribery and insincerity which thrive 223 greatly in Nigeria 35 . According to Gbadero and Adeleye, many people who are perpetuating evil in Nigeria are 224 members of one church or the other. They may be well known to the leaders of the churches. Their tithes and 225 their huge contributions to the church development may apparently not give the church leaders the opportunity

226 to challenge them 36 ? The duo of Gbadero and Adeleye go on to state quite pungently that: Pastors don't often 227 care where their people get the money. Just bring it and let life continue. How many pastors ask for the source 228 of the money their followers give? Most of these treasury looters and robbers sit in front rows of our churches 229 and donate the largest amounts and pastors don't care ? The church has become a theatre, a place where people 230 come to amuse themselves 36 . Instead of holding tenaciously to the teachings of Christ by teaching the truth 231 about salvation of souls, some religious leaders have soiled their conscience for material gain 38 . Olubunmi 232 Okogie has no room for priests that are after money. He admonished thus: "You are not there to acquire wealth, 233 buy properties, build houses and amass wealth. If you do, you are an armed robber number one, and you will 234 go to hell for stealing the money of God's people" 39 . Abogunrin is in agreement with Okogie as he postulates 235 that:

236 5 Volume XX Issue I Version I

237 A true disciple of Jesus is one who has a true sense of value and recognizes that real life is not measured in 238 terms of material possessions. The man who is not rich in regard to God is indeed poor, no matter how big 239 his bank-balance. He is, therefore, in the last analysis a big fool, a godless, greedy and selfish individual and 240 therefore a senseless man. He heaps up treasures for himself, and though he prepares for his own comfort and 241 enjoyment, he has not prepared for his ultimate destiny 40 .

242 Covertousness, which is quite ungodly is common in the church, particularly among some ministers of God.
243 Again, according to Abogunrin, covertousness is folly, in other words, utter obduracy because no true joy, 244 happiness, rest of mind and peace, nor true life are found in the abundance of earthly possession. Man cannot 245 live by bread alone 41 . Abogunrin goes on to state quite unequivocally that "to make earthly possessions and 246 worldly pleasures the main purpose of life is not only a fatal act of folly but deadly sin" 42 . According to Yahaya:

247 There are a lot of people who are into ministries today because of their stomachs. People are into the ministry 248 without a call. "God has never told you to go to the village and preach". Everybody wants to be in the city, 249 nobody wants to be in the village. What some of them are presently doing contradicts the ways of Jesus Christ.

250 There are churches you go to today that I believe are commercial ventures because they adopt all sorts of methods 251 to collect money from you. ?Those places, shop corners and business centres that go by the name churches, we 252 have to tell them the truth and shut them down. Rather than praying for the people, some pastors always go as 253 far as demanding monies from people before they can pray, forgetting that Jesus Christ admonished that freely 254 have you received and freely shall you give (Matt. 10:8) 43 .

255 Pastor Enoch Adejare Adebayo toed the path of righteousness when he said that: "I read in the newspaper
256 this morning that one of the serving governors in Nigeria said that some pastors in Nigeria collected #6billion 257 from politicians for the purpose of influencing their members to vote a certain candidate in the coming elections.
258 May I humbly request that if there be any pastor or pastors who collected such money, they should please return 259 such as quickly as possible before the fire of the Almighty consumes you" 44 . Paul in his letter to Timothy 260 states: But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and hurtful desires 261 that plunge men into ruin and destruction. For the love of money is the root of all evils; it is through this craving 262 that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced their hearts with many pangs. But as for you, man 263 of God, shun all this; aim at righteousness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, gentleness? (I Tim. 6:9-11).
264 According to Olurode, money is said to be the root of all evils. The concept of the money culture refers to the 265 use of money in the public sphere in order to get things done or get people to behave in a particular way even 266 though this may be contrary to expected behavioural standards. It refers to the frequent use of money 45 in all 267 situations.

268 It should be noted with utmost significance that since some of the priests have 'cornered' some money, they 269 are just like infidels in their conducts or at best mere proselytes. Instead of them to live an ascetic, selfabnegating 270 and spartan life, as found hitherto, and which is a sine qua non of the calling, they have exposed themselves to 271 enormous glamour, grandeur and opulence. In fact, ostentation is the order of the day, sometimes at the detriment 272 of the toiling laity, some of whom are probably hirelings; only to console them with the biblical passage which 273 states sympathetically, "Blessed are you who are poor, for yours is the kingdom of God" (Lk. 6:20). This of 274 course is an aberration. Christianity should be factis non verbis i.e., by deeds and not by words. That is why 275 Jeremy Taylor spoke of "divine living rather than divine knowledge" 46 , while Mahalma Gandhi says "you should 276 live as if you were to die tomorrow" 47 which evidently portrays righteousness. Blessed are those who fear the 277 Lord and walk in his ways (Ps. 128:1).

278 Yet another dimension to the unchristian debacle among some ministers is ritual in the church. some ministers
279 do embark on rituals in order to have large congregation. According to Erelu Agbaye, many minsters and prophets 280 of God ? had at one time or the other come to her in a forest during her sojourn in the occultic world for power, 281 fame and other assistance in order to be successful in life 48 . A report which confirmed a gory sight of ritual in 282 the church states thus: "We were shocked when my uncle noticed flies flying around a particular place where one 283 of the pillars of the church building was to be erected. We began to dig up, we saw my brother's body buried 284 upright. We brought out the corpse and the police later took it to the mortuary 49 . And in the same vein, 285 again according to a report: A senior evangelist with a popular white garment church and leader of one of the 286 parishes settled for the unexpected last Monday, when he allegedly organized the 'slaughtering' of his mother, 287 like a goat, drained her blood and save it in a bucket ? The blood was later shared into six bottles and taken

288 away by persons believed to have been hired by him? The pastor? is yet to lead the police to where the bottles 289 are. The deceased Adebisi, (60), was said to have been deceived by her evangelist son that she was going for a 290 prayer retreat, when five strangemen allegedly hired by her son, pounced on her. The cleric was said to have 291 supervised his mother's killing and personally drained her blood in a bucket which was said to have been placed 292 under the deceased's neck 50 .

295 Furthermore, priests are supposed to preach very passionately against adultery and or fornication, and abstain 296 absolutely from lewdness and lechery. Nevertheless, some of them are found of caressing their members and even 297 having fun with some of the gullible ones, sometimes under the guise of spirituality, but occasionally for charm.
 298 According to a report: Thirty four-year-old pastor Adekunle Kayode has been arrested by the Ogun State police 299 command for allegedly fingering a member of his church... to confirm her virginity. The incident was said to have 300 occurred on Sunday within the premises of the Jesus is The Way Evangelical Ministry, Olorunsogo, Abeokuta?
 301 Oluwasegun who is Kayode's accomplice allegedly used a charm on the victim with the intention of raping her 302 possibly for ritual purposes. The charm which has been recovered from Kayode, was said to have been hidden in 303 the church premises 51 .

304 Ditto is the story of yet another concupiscence pastor. Again, according to a report: Pastor Princewill Basil
 305 who is standing trial before an FCT High Court over allege rape of two girls was on Tuesday confronted by another 306 victim who claimed he raped her countless times? Basil, the General Overseer, Mountain Movers Fire Ministry 307 Church, Nyanya, was arraigned in 2012 for allegedly having unlawful carnal knowledge and impregnating two 308 student-members of his church, aged 14 and 15.? The pastor raped her "to cleanse her of dirt". I cannot remember 309 the number of times he raped me. Papa told me it was continuous deliverance, and he had to sleep with me 310 to clean all the dirt inside me and also cleanse my future? 52 Adultery and fornication -inclined tendencies are 311 not limited to the shores of Nigeria. They are found elsewhere -in Africa. According to a report: At the Lord's 312 Propeller Redemption Church, Dandora Phase II, Nairobi, Kenya, the "man of God" has instructed women not 313 to come to church in their under pants and bras anymore! And they dutifully complied. Simply identified as 314 Reverend Njohi, the church leader was said to have told female members of his congregation that the "Holy 315 Spirit" is not only interested in their Sunday best attires but also what goes on under their skirts. He told 316 them not to come to church with their bras and pants again because "those things hinder the move of the Holy 317 Spirit". He claims that when people go to church, they need "to be free in body and spirit to receive Christ".
 318 And for women who may choose to ignore the instructions of the "man of God", he warns of dire consequences.
 319 He advised mothers to make sure that they not only come without their underwear, but to also ensure that they 320 closely monitor their daughters and ensure compliance.Perhaps, what is more surprising is that this concept of 321 "the less worn, the more the impact of the Holy Spirit", which is yet to be linked to any verse in the scriptures, 322 applies to just the women in his congregation. The men are free to come to church fully kitted. It would seem like 323 the "Holy Spirit" is not particularly interested in what happens to the men in the Lord's Propheller Redemption 324 Church 53 .

325 Indeed, according to Odumuyiwa, it seems Christianity is being tainted by the attitudes of some church leaders 326 ? which are now influencing adversely the integrity of Christianity and some Christians. The shortcomings of 327 the (leaders) of Christianity today now calls for concern 54 . Undoubtedly, some ministers of God have taken 328 their calling as an alibi to perpetuate very heinous crimes. Some believe, perhaps erroneously, that since they 329 have the "calling", they are infallible, irrespective of the magnitude of misdemeanor. Of a truth, some of their 330 conducts violate decorum and, therefore, reprehensible, as very unscriptural conducts have grown phenomenally 331 amidst them in spite of Peter's injunction that states inter alia: Live as free men, but do not use your freedom as 332 cover-up for evil; live as servants of God (I Pet. 2:16). It should be stated at this juncture that those controlled 333 by the sinful nature cannot please God (Rom. 8:8), therefore, there is need to be holy just as the father is holy 334 (I Pet. 1:16).

335 Again, there is religious bigotry and or jingoism. According to Olurode,.. In Nigeria, religious externalities
 336 play virtually no role and we have no means of measuring the degree of religious internalization. There is greed 337 and poverty of commitment to principles (ethical poverty) and desperation to copy others (peer group) 55 . But 338 the truth is that everybody knows what is not anti-thetical, going by the intuitive conscience. According to Bolaji 339 Idowu, "Every human being who is not clearly an imbecile has a knowledge of right and wrong ? everyone knows 340 that right is not the same thing as wrong ? Even though moral philosophers cannot agree upon the explanation 341 of what the difference is, they all perceive that there is a difference between right and wrong" 56 . It is sad to 342 note according to Gbadero and Adeleye that "Church is springing up everywhere and everyone is claiming to 343 be born-again even when committing the most heinous crime. The corrupt leaders are hiding behind the pulpit
 344 57 ? Buttressing this, Odumuyiwa opines thus: in spite of all the proliferation of churches, crimes still persist
 345 in our society 58 , even as all wrongdoing is sin (I John 5:17). The church is growing with very few members 346 who are responsible 59 . That is why Odumuyiwa states that "there are some criminally-oriented and religious 347 individuals 60 . Odumuyiwa goes on to state that a religion that is worth its salt cannot relegate morality to the 348 background 61 . Again, according to Odumuyiwa, Christians are warned not to commit social decadence. For 349 example, Christianity abhors lack of respect for elders, killing, adultery, stealing, bearing false witness, which 350 summarized what should be the way of life of christians 62 . However, all these are found freely exhibited by 351 supposed Christians. There is, therefore, the need to ? arrest the decline in spirituality in social value 63 ? if 352 Christians are to be so called and regarded.

353 8 IV. Conclusion

354 It has been observed in the course of this work that unrighteousness has become so prevalent in Christianity.
355 Oddities have become the vogue in the Christendom in spite of the multiplication of churches. According to 356 Akaeze, just as the number of Nigerian churches ? increase astronomically, so is the number of pastors ?linked 357 to crime appear to be on the rise 64 . Buttressing the position of Akaeze, Odumuyiwa dissects the scenario thus:
358 ?it is unfortunate to say that as proliferated as the church is in Nigeria so is the country engulfed in social and 359 moral decadence and crime perpetuated by some followers of Christianity. Nigeria is as religiously inclined as it 360 is criminal 65 . There are numerous diabolical and nauseating conducts. Success in the ministry is now measured 361 by the type of car(s) you ride, the mansion you live in, the amount of money in the bank account, etc. It is no 362 longer the number of souls you are able to win for Christ. The gospel of prosperity has taken over. Salvation and 363 the issue of eschatology is now relegated to the background, which is a negation and glaringly a gross abuse of 364 the sacerdotal duty. Break-through in all ramifications has become the vogue. The end now justifies the means.
365 Every Christian wants to make it either by hook or crook, and thus swayed by pecuniary gains. Some can kill 366 or maim essentially to get rich. Akaeze postulates that: for a country that is universally acknowledged as one 367 of the most religious in the world, in view of the high number of churches ? dotting its landscape, the trend is 368 disturbing 66 . Ehioghae quoting Tinubu states that: ?the churches that ought to lead the vanguard in the fight 369 against social ills are sometimes found in these acts 67 ? Obasanjo had indicted some religious bodies of aiding 370 and abetting crimes and that the "rising tide of corruption could be dumped at the door-steps of these church 371 leaders" ??8 . Imagine the meddlesomeness of some ministers in shady deals in diverse stratagem! There are 372 sleazy deals and crass commercialization of the gospel 69 , even when Gaebelein enthuse that ?the ministry has 373 no place for those who make merchandise of it 70 . Could all these atrocities hitherto enumerated be linked with 374 the end-time? Paul had, in his letter to his spiritual son, Timothy, predicted that:

375 Corroborating the prediction of Paul, Thomas Hale postulates that: in the last days before Christ comes again, 376 trouble and distress will come upon all men. At that time many will turn away from the faith 71 . However, 377 adherents of the Christian faith should be wary of their conducts. This is because John pungently states very 378 clearly that: ?Let the evildoer still do evil, and the filthy still be filthy, and the righteous still do right, and 379 the holy still be holy. "Behold, I am coming soon, bringing my recompense, to repay everyone for what he has 380 done" (Rev. 22:11-12). Therefore, the delay in the parousia (second coming) of Jesus must not engender any 381 relaxation in the faithful vigilance of God's people 72 . Christians must necessarily rise and be watchful of their 382 conducts. They should be like Ceaser's wife, above board 73 , that is, living a meaningful and righteous life and 383 not disingenuous or entangled in infraction(s) as presently found in many churches. Certainly, righteousness is a 384 desideratum, as there is the absolute need for moral rectitude in Christianity. ¹
